

What if you could feel sun on your back despite the winter days.

If wrapped under wrapping, shoulder to shoulder,
wrapped against wrapping,
woven into cloth,
making a clot of yourself, should you feel warm then?

Yet, smelted into cloth and melted onto bandage, the sun will not find you.
You'll be moon reflecting and seldom attaining.
